Pineloch Elementary School's Weekly Service Index rose 9.2 points this week over the prior week. The Pineloch Service Index closed with a reading of 108.3 points meaning that overall the school's 16 short-run performance indicators collectively averaged 108.3% of plan.

BACK-TO-BACK PURCHASES: Number of emergency custodial purchases made

FIVE DAYS

For any school's overall results to advance 9.2 percentage points on a week-over-week basis is quite impressive. Relative to goal: 1) eight indicators improved this week; 2) four declined; and 3) four were unchanged. The one indicator with the biggest gain on the week was the students' journal writing activities which jumped two-fold. The number of Read Alouds also doubled from the preceding week.

The chart above illustrates another emergency purchase made by the custodial team. In the past 15 weeks, this was only the 3rd occurrence, but the 2nd week in a row of same...an area of opportunity for the week ahead. Another area of opportunity based on this past week's results is Accelerated Reader activity. With the exception of the 2nd grade, the other grades came up short on this first week of 2008 (table).

Dr. Choice should be pleased with those short-range indicators classified under the High-performing and Dedicated Team category. This week each of the seven measures here achieved 100% of goal or better. Worth noting is the fact that this past week was the 1st time this school year that each of the four non-instructional staff attendance rates attained 100%. An excellent effort to kick off the new year!

How to read the table: The indexes are read as percent-of-goal achieved whereby 100.0 equals exact-to-goal. Principal Anderson established these weekly measures last summer as method for tracking progress against the school's strategic goals during the year. If any indicator has its index shaded in red, then it is performing at less than 85% of goal for that time period. Over time, Edgewater's five-day service indicators should be falling inside the 85.0 to 110.0 range (yellow zone).
